

HUNGARY WADES INTO EUROPEAN CRISIS TODAY

Dispatches Mysterious Ultimatum To Prague As Fighting Rages

Germany Seeks Division of Czechoslovakia Into Three Reich Sponsored States

By International News Service

Hungary waded into the central European crisis today, dispatching a mysterious ultimatum to Prague, as fighting raged on the Rumanian-Hungarian border, and Slovakia proclaimed her independence. While Germany seeks division of Czechoslovakia into three Reich sponsored states, Hungarian troops occupied a number of Rumanian villages.

Major developments:

Budapest—Hungarian troops occupied a large number, perhaps as many as 30 Rumanian towns, moving down any resistance they encountered.

Berlin—Chancellor Hitler received Slovakian message, denouncing proclamation of independence and declaring that the "Czech yoke" had been thrown off.

Prague—Czech troops withdrew from Czechoslovakia as Bratislava proclaimed independence.

Joseph Tiso established a new government and prepared for a presidential election. Rumania was reported also to have declared its independence, or to be about to do so momentarily.

Vienna—Soldiers in full war kit clogged streets and roads as they headed for Slovakian frontier.

BUDAPEST, Mar. 14—Hungary stepped into the newly centralized European situation today, occupying a number of villages in the Rumania (Carpato-Ukraine), and thus serving notice that further partition of Czechoslovakia cannot be effected without her approval.

While heavy fighting was reported all along the border of Hungary and Rumania, the Budapest government sent a mysterious ultimatum to Prague.

The general assumption was that Hungary, like Germany, had laid upon President Hacha, of Czechoslovakia, responsibility for the serious disorders and dissatisfaction of minorities which led today to a declaration of Slovak independence. This was apparent in Budapest that Hungary intends to make herself felt in the new dismemberment which Czechoslovakia embarked upon so suddenly by Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

PRAGUE, Mar. 14—Amid scenes of riotous enthusiasm, the independent Republic of Slovakia was proclaimed at Bratislava today, as first steps in the disintegration of the once proud treaty-born nation of Czechoslovakia were taken. Under the sponsorship of Reichsfuehrer Hitler, Dr. Joseph Tiso set himself up as Prime Minister of the new state, issued a proclamation announcing that the "yoke of Prague" had been thrown off, and called for presidential elections to take place within a fortnight.

ONLY SIX CASES ARE LISTED FOR COURT TRIAL

Two Divorces Are Granted At The Opening of Civil and Equity Court

OTHER COURT AFFAIRS

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 14—Only six out of 27 cases for trial at the March term of Bucks county civil and equity court which opened yesterday before Judges Hiram H. Keller and Calvin S. Boyer. Many were continued, for various reasons, and some were settled.

Judge Keller granted a divorce upon payment of costs in the cases of Lizzie Lundy Winslow, Bristol, against Joseph Albert Winslow, Bristol, on grounds of desertion. The Winslows were married in Bristol, December 20, 1911.

A divorce was granted by Judge Boyer, upon payment of costs in the case, to Reuney E. Dey, 12 North Delaware avenue, Yardley, against Elizabeth C. Dey, Edgewater Park, N. J., on grounds of desertion. They were married May 24, 1926.

Judge Boyer handed down an opinion in the Court of Quarter Sessions in the case of Commonwealth of Pennsylvania against Donald K. Oakley, Langhorne, overruling a motion for a new trial and arrest of judgment, and directing the defendant, who was convicted of driving while drunk, to appear in Court for sentence.

The first case on trial at the March civil term is that of Wilmer K. Fretz & Sons, Bedminster contracting firm, against Marguerite Andrus, proprietor of the Log Cabin Inn, north of Pipersville. It is an action in assumpsit growing out of payment for some building work done by the plaintiff for the defendant. The plaintiff is represented by Wynne James, Jr., Doylestown, and the defendant by John L. DuBois, Doylestown.

Cases continued for the term:

Commercial Securities Corporation vs. Bankers and Shippers Insurance Company of New York; Elizabeth A. Robertshaw, survivor of Elizabeth A. Robertshaw and Alfred F. Robertshaw vs. The Burgess and Town Company of Morrisville; Arthur E. Widenmeyer vs. Roosevelt Cemetery Company; Irving C. Leerman vs. J. W. Ward; Rose J. Levene vs. Edwin H. Stout, Benjamin Smith and Jennie Smith; Anna Keresch vs. Joseph P. Higgins; Albert Dooley vs. Charles A. Leibig, administrators of the estate of Charles Rinck, deceased; Constance E. Sinclair vs. Charles Dyer and Mae Dyer; Richmond Bus Lines vs. Mrs. J. J. Muller and Edna Muller; Rudolph Simitz vs. Huldah E. Myers and Rufus M. Nolt; Constanti Rutkowski vs. John Perkowski; Louis I. Weiner and Harry Weiner vs. N. L. Vincent; Karl Koenig vs. Joseph F. Higgins; The MacLeod Company vs. L. D. David Company; Corn Exchange National Bank and Trust Company vs. Harry F. Gill and J. Alva Gill, Jr.; James West vs. Hattie M. Sandt.

The case of LeRoy VanToor, Jr. vs. Hugh M. Dougherty, has been settled, it was announced today.

COOLS OFF IN JAIL

DALLAS, Tex., Mar. 14—(INS)—"What's the big idea?" asked Dallas plainclothes officers when they saw a man coming out of a hotel room with an electric fan under his arm—in the middle of winter. "You know how changeable this Texas weather is," the man explained. "You never know when there will be a spell of hot weather and I'm carrying the fan just to be prepared." Officers arrested the fan-toter. The fan had been stolen.

A Gift from Chief Bender

By "The Stroller"

"Mike" Robertson, Mulberry street, has two wallets, and thereby hangs a tale.

It was on the occasion of Chief Bender's visit to Bristol a few weeks ago that "Mike" lost his wallet while enjoying the program. When the popular member of the Philadelphia Athletics' aggregation was ready to begin his second performance in the K. of C. home, the lad from Mulberry street asked the Chief if he would kindly announce the loss in the hope the wallet might be returned.

Yesterday a package arrived through the mail for "Mike," and in it was a fine new leather wallet, the enclosed card stating "Compliments of Chief Bender—I hope you found the license card."

Oh, yes—about the other wallet: Well "Mike" found it stuck in his coat. Now he has plenty of wallets.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

An antique piece of statuary that had been converted into an electric lamp was the missile that Mrs. Winifred Beatty, 44, of near Eureka, is alleged to have used to toss at her husband, Thomas Beatty, employed for years by a Philadelphia battery concern.

Beatty received eight stitches across the face to close up the wound and Mrs. Beatty got her first experience in jail, for she was committed to the Bucks County Prison on a charge of assault and battery lodged by her husband.

"I should have hit him long before I did," Mrs. Beatty is said to have remarked to one of the prison guards.

Frederick A. Metzger died at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brucker, South Main street, Perkasie, at the age of 85 years.

Mr. Metzger, a native of Germany, came to this country early in life and had an interesting career during his early life. He was a member of the United States Army from 1876 to 1881 and was among the group that was assigned to service in the western part of the country to quell Indian risings.

He was with Custer during that general's famed last stand, but on the particular day of the memorable battle, was dispatched to duty several miles distant from the battle ground that brought death to Custer and his brave men.

He became naturalized in 1884 and after his marriage settled in Philadelphia. His wife preceded him in death in 1897. Ten years ago he came to Perkasie, where he has since resided.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Brucker, and Mrs. Harry Barnes. Six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive.

With one guardsman absent, the annual State and Federal inspection of Company D, 11th Infantry, Pennsylvania National Guard, was held at Doylestown when the Bucks county guardsmen won high praise.

"The boys put on a grand inspection, one of the best I have ever seen," declared Colonel Franklin A. Warner, commanding officer of the 11th Infantry of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

"This community should be proud of its Pennsylvania National Guard unit and the splendid morale of the boys," said Major Wilson Stevenson, plans and training officer of the 11th Infantry.

Colonel Max Murray, of the United States Army, who conducted the Federal inspection, closely inspected each guardsman, his uniform, side arms and equipment. Seldom, if ever, have the guardsmen been subjected to a more rigorous appraisal including appearance, manner, bearing, posture, and deportment. Colonel Murray, a graduate of West Point Military Academy, is an instructor of special troops of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

MORRISVILLE TO OPEN BIDS FOR NEW POLICE CAR

Council Expected To Take Action Tonight Toward Purchase of Vehicle

INSTALL RADIO LATER

MORRISVILLE, Mar. 14—Bids are to be opened at a meeting of borough council tonight for a police car. The car is to be fully equipped with everything except the radio and this additional equipment will be added by the borough. Present plans call for the car, after it is purchased, to be equipped with a radio receiving set to be tied in with the Trenton police radio system.

While it is expected the purchase will be made early, the matter will probably be deferred for a few days so members of Council will have an opportunity to study the bids.

The question of additional police officers is also expected to have the attention of the councilmen although the matter will be referred to the police committee for recommendation.

The borough now employs three officers, including the chief. There are two eight-hour shifts and one four-hour shift. An extra man is also employed to fill in when any of the regular officers are off duty. Some councilmen favor enough men for three full eight-hour shifts and an extra man while others believe the borough should have enough policemen so there will be two men on duty at all times.

Th question of the automatic traffic lights for Pennsylvania and Bridge streets and Pennsylvania avenue and Trenton avenue will again be up for discussion. The matter was referred to the State some time ago as to whether the borough could have permission to erect these lights on the State highway.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE

There will be a business meeting of the Women of the Moose, Chapter No. 763, in the Moose Home, at eight o'clock this evening. All members are urged to be present.

Petrillo Trial To Open Today

Philadelphia, Mar. 14—Trial was scheduled to open today in the case of Herman Petrillo, 40, reputed leader of a murder-for-hire insurance ring here. The first jurors chosen, with six yet to be named this morning include:

Mrs. Margaret G. Skeen, of 1137 Rittenhouse st., housewife, foreman.

Mrs. Marie Fitzpatrick, of 2211 N. Van Pelt st., housewife.

Mrs. Dorothy S. McMullin, of 2113 Chestnut st., housewife.

Miller Merenbeck, 1513 N. 8th street, ice cream manufacturer.

Kenneth G. Leighton, 240 W. Nedro avenue, salesman.

William King, Jr., 1221 S. 59th street, audit clerk.

Petrillo is the first of four alleged members of the ring who are to be tried before Judge Harry S. McDevitt, in City Hall. The state indicated that the death penalty would be asked.

Yesterday 50 were questioned before six jurors were named.

Separate trials were granted Petrillo and the other defendants, Mrs. Stella Alfonsi, 29; Mrs. Katrina Favato, 45, and Paul Petrillo, 57, cousin of Herman.

Petrillo is to go on trial in the death of Ferdinand Alfonsi, 38, WPA worker, whose death in the National Stomach Hospital last Oct. 28 uncovered the ring. He was the husband of Mrs. Alfonsi.

Other deaths attributed to the ring were those of Charles Ingrao, Mrs. Favato's common-law husband; his son, Philip, 18, and Giuseppe di Martino, a friend of the Favatos.

Mrs. Lettie McSherry has filed a libel in divorce in the Prothonotary's office here against her husband, Lawrence McSherry, charging him with desertion.

According to the libel, they were married April 19, 1930, at Elkton. The libellant is a resident of Tullytown and the respondent's address is Woodside avenue, Headley Manor, Bristol Township. The libellant alleges that the respondent deserted her December 11, 1936, at Tullytown.

Virginia Hoyer has been named the respondent in an action in divorce begun by her husband, Irwin C. Hoyer. According to the libel, the libellant and respondent were married December 20, 1923, at Bristol, by the Rev. Henry M. Hartman.

The libellant's present address is 1904 Trenton avenue, Bristol, and that of her husband in December, 1938, when it was last known, was 64 Hope avenue, Passaic, N. J. The desertion is alleged to have taken place in Bristol, December 19, 1931.

Charging his wife, Jessie M. Shick, with cruel and barbarous treatment, C. Mervin Shick has filed an action in divorce here. According to the libel, they were married December 30, 1922, in Philadelphia. The libellant's present address is Main street, Hulmeville. The respondent's address is Treviso road, Treviso.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright, 1938, by The Baltimore Sun)

Dispirited Democrats

Washington, Mar. 13.

PERHAPS the unexpected will happen and Democratic politicians will snap out of their present low frame of mind. Perhaps—though no one believes it—a way may be found to restore harmony in the party. Nevertheless, at this time it is literally amazing how strongly defeatism has taken hold of Democrats of all kinds in Washington.

FROM one set of Roosevelt aides comes the loud plaint that the President is being "stabbed in the back" by the "Tory Democrats of the South." Another set advances the argument that unless the party people who are now opposing the President cease their opposition and accept his leadership—knowing very well that that isn't going to be done—then the party is doomed to defeat next year.

This, in effect, is exactly what Solicitor General Jackson said in his Topeka speech a short time ago.

FROM some of his pained admirers.

Miss Thelma Satterthwaite, sister of the bride, was maid of honor; and David Smith, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

HOLD YOUTHS FOR COURT ON FALSE ALARM CHARGE

Three youths pleaded guilty last night to sending in a false alarm of fire which called the Bristol Consolidated Fire Department to box 48, Beaver street, in front of the plant of Lucius Beebe & Sons, at about 12:15 Saturday morning, March 11th. All three signed a statement in which they recited the details, according to the police.

The three, William Alexander, Howard Aufschlag and Thomas Goodman, all gave Croydon as their address and each gave the age of 17. According to the statement Aufschlag was the one of the trio who really sent in the alarm.

The boys were given a hearing last night before Justice of Peace, Edward Lynn, who held each one in $300 bail for court.

According to Chief Hagerman of the Fire Department the firemen answered the alarm and as he and some other firemen waited at the box they noticed three youths in a car. Chief Hagerman questioned the boys and they told him, he says that they were looking for a family by the name of Wilson, Hagerman and Fireman Joseph Burns directed the youths to the Wilson house, telling them it was located on a certain street. The boys then drove off but instead of turning into the street where the Wilson family lives, they continued on. The fire chief and Burns then pursued the boys, took their names, addresses and driver's license data. They had the car of Samuel Smith.

Saturday Chief Jones had the boys report to the police headquarters and upon questioning they admitted sending in the alarm.

A number of false alarms have been received recently but the boys state that this is the first and only time they ever called the firemen.

Christian Orphanage Sold By County Sheriff

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 14—The Carversville Christian Orphanage property including a large farm which was dedicated July 11, 16 years ago for the purpose of benevolence, was sold Friday by Sheriff William L. Stackhouse at public auction in the sheriff's office to the highest bidder.

The orphanage, which has had many "bad breaks" during the past year, as have other institutions of a similar nature, was sold to two buyers. The orphanage farm, located in Solebury township, with a real debt of $2597.18, with costs and taxes amounting to $106.98, was bid up and sold for $4600 to Howard M. Barnes, Doylestown attorney. The orphanage building, once known as the "Hillside Farm," had a real debt of $4311.94 and was bought in for costs and taxes amounting to $111.73, by Ross & Ross, Doylestown attorneys.

Other properties sold by the Sheriff by virtue of writs issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Bucks county are as follows:

Middletown township: Tract seized from Charles B. McIntyre and Marguerite B. McIntyre; real debt, $2892.75; sold to Charles B. Ermentrout, attorney, for $425.36.

Perkasie: Tract seized from John M. Overholt, deceased et al; real debt $2145.65; sold to Frank Benner, Perkasie, for $1200.

Springfield township: Two tracts seized from Linford Mease and Mary Mease; real debt, $3960.83; sold to Arthur M. Eastburn, attorney, for $261.15.

Hulmeville: Tract seized from Harry W. Johnson and Genevieve May Johnson; real debt, $2441.85; sold to Harry Schallcher, attorney, for $105.49.

COUNCIL TRANSACTS ROUTINE AFFAIRS IN MONTHLY SESSION

Hears Annual Financial Statement Read by Borough Treasurer

POLICE MAKE REPORT

Some Discussion Over Distribution of Clothing From The Sewing Project

Borough council met last night and transacted only routine business. There was the reading of the financial report by Borough Treasurer, William J. Lefferts. The report was ordered received, filed, published in the press and made a part of the borough year book.

Police reported 13 arrests made during the month. One hundred and forty-nine lodgers were given shelter; 14 arc, 18 incandescent and one bridge light were reported out during the month. Eleven were fined for parking violations and one was discharged.

Councilman Foster, Fourth Ward, presented a petition from residents of the 800 block Jefferson avenue, asking that the pavement and curbing extending beyond the line at the rear of their properties on both Mansion and Garden streets, be removed. The petition was referred to street and highway committee with power to act.

Application for permission to hang signs at Bath and Otter streets and also in front of 132 Otter street was referred to street and highway committee with power to act.

Communication asking permission to land boats at the borough wharf was submitted by R. W. Meansinger, Glenside. Request referred to Public Property committee with power to act.

Report from the sewing project was received stating that during December 2,026 garments were distributed; 1,476 in January and 1,516 in February. All distribution was made through the clothing distribution center in fire station of America Hose, Hook & Ladder Co., No. 2. Some of the councilmen discussed the fact that only those on relief were entitled to receive the clothing. Other councilmen said that some applying for clothing had been told that they must go to Doylestown to get it. This was considered a hardship in view of the fact that perhaps many could not afford to go to Doylestown to get the clothing.

of a lawless era that made him what he was—the most desperate outlaw that ever lived. He has become a legendary character in American folklore and more has been written about him than any figure in our outlaw history. But, actually, just what sort of a man was Jesse James?

That was the problem that confronted Darryl F. Zanuck, production chief of 20th Century-Fox, when he decided to make a picture about the outlaw's life. What sort of a man was Jesse James? Did he drink? Did he curse? Did he love his children? Was he a good family man? How did his men regard him? Why did he kill? These were all questions that had to be answered. Nunnally Johnson, associate producer, and Henry King, who directed the film, were assigned to furnish the answers.

This began one of the most intensive research efforts ever attempted in Hollywood. Every available man in the great studio research department was assigned to help, with Nunnally Johnson supervising their efforts. Henry King, flying his own plane started on a month's trip to the Ozark mountain region where James pursued his lawless career.

CHEWNING'S SCORING SETS RECORD IN THE SCHOOL CAGE LEAGUE

Betty Bounds, Bensalem, Sets
New Mark in The Girls' Circuit

OTHER SCORE RECORDS

Several Players On Other
Teams All Did Well
In Scoring

According to the figures released to the public on the 1939 Lower Bucks County School Basketball League, George Chewning of Fallsington and Betty Bounds of Bensalem set new marks in winning the individual scoring honors during the past campaign, in their respective leagues.

The diminutive sharp-shooting forward from Fallsington set up no less than 44 double-deckers and tossed in 14 free throws to pass the century mark with a total of 102 counters in ten tilts for an average of slightly more than 10 points per game. At the same time, Betty Bounds, big forward for Coach Helen Smith's Bensalem Owlets, shook the nets from the floor on 38 assorted occasions and counted 18 gift throws to hang up a grand total of 94 tallies in eight tilts for an average of slightly less than 12 pointers per game.

Although Bounds led her league at the conclusion of the first round of play with 38 points, Chewning was tied away with Jess Huggins of Morrisville for fourth place, some 14 points away from Wilbur VanLenten, Bristol center, who was then leading the league with 51 tallies. But the star forward for the Falcons came up with a late season spurt to finish far ahead of the field in winning the title. After the second round with Bristol and Morrisville, Chewning had only 50 points, but in his final three tilts, he went on a scoring spree to pepper the nets for 52 points in those games.

He started against Buckingham, in which tilt he scored 12 points, to boost his season's mark to 62. Still he was in third place, 11 points behind Bill Gallagher, whose 73 points had given him the leadership at that time. And when Bill increased his margin over his team-mate, Wilbur VanLenten, by ten points after the Southampton game, it appeared as though the Cardinal redhead had sewed up the title since the race had developed all season between the two Bristol aces.

However, on the same night, startling news came from Bensalem in regard to this situation. Chewning had set a new season's high single game mark by chalking up a total of 23 points against the Owls. That gave him a three-point lead over Gallagher, 85-82, with each having one more tilt to go. But with Chewning playing against Southampton on the high scoring floor at Trenton, and Gallagher playing against Morrisville in a usual low scoring contest, everything was in favor of the Falcon ace. Nevertheless, just to be doubly sure, he went out and gathered himself 17 points to bring his total up to its final reading of 102. The following night, the entire Bristol team could score only 17 points against Morrisville and since Gallagher scored five of them, he raised his season's total to 87, which broke last year's record mark of 85 set by Bud Appenzeller of Fallsington in winning the title in '38.

Meantime, Bounds was setting a mad pace to stay out in front in the race for the same honors in the girls' league. She won the orthodox way by gaining the upper hand from the beginning and holding it all the way through the season. However, she held only a four-point lead over Betty Johnson of Southampton at the end of the first round. Bounds had 38 points to 34 for the Little Southampton forward.

And her puny three total in the Morrisville game was a poor start in the second round (that was her single game low for the season). But in her following game, she went haywire against Southampton to set a mark that will stand for a long time, for on that memorable night, she rang up a total of 29 points to break all single game marks existing. Then in her final tilt with Buckingham, she sank 16 more points to give her a season's total of 94 points for a new record in individual scoring. Her single game low, as aforementioned, was in the Morrisville game at Morrisville, in which she scored only three points; while her high, of course, was in the Southampton tilt at Southampton, in which she set the new high mark of 29 tallies. Bounds' record against league clubs was eight against Morrisville, 17 against Bristol, 24 against Buckingham, and 45 against Southampton.

Chewning's single game low was against Bristol at Trenton in which he scored only four points, while his high was against Bensalem in which he set the season's mark of 23. His record against league clubs was 12 against Bristol, 16 against Morrisville, 26 against Buckingham, 26 against Southampton, and 28 against Bensalem.

Bud Appenzeller, who finished a point ahead of Chewning last year to win the honors with 85 points to Chewning's 84, could get no higher than fourth this season, although he missed one game entirely and was out half of another game on fouls. His total this year was 63. Bill Gallagher, of Bristol, finished second with 87, while his running mate, Wilbur VanLenten, had 75 for third. Elmer Losse, Southampton star, finished in fifth place with 62 points, one point above Stanley Prawdick, high-scoring center from Buckingham, who had 61 for the season to lead the Bucs in this department.

Then came a pair of guards, each with a 59 total. They were Little Gus Carnvale of Bristol, and Andy Gavin of Morrisville. Two more Bulldog stars followed in rapid order with Jim Yeager having 57 and Jesse Huggins tying Bill Erwin of Buckingham for the No. 10 spot with 53 tallies.

Steve Florito's 51 was the only other total above the 50 mark although Charlie Heaton of Southampton just missed that mark by getting 41. Roy Losse of Southampton, the No. 16 man in individual scoring had the same total as Harry Strzel of Southampton, who was 16th last year.

Ethel Linck of Bristol nosed out Betty Johnson of Southampton for the No. 2 spot in the girls' league with 75 points to 69 for the little Southampton forward. Linck's high total was against Buckingham with 19; while Johnson scored 18 against Bensalem for her season's high single game. Doris Stewart of Bristol was fourth with 54; Elaine Koenig led Buckingham's scorers with 45 for fifth place. The first ten leading scorers in the girls' league was rounded out with Glyn Applin of Bensalem, 43; Sue Holloway, Morrisville, 42; Ann Warwick, Bristol, 39; Evelyn Haldeman, Southampton, 38; and Shirley Heenan, Morrisville, 27. Worthington of Morrisville was the only other one to score more than 20 points. She had 22. Jane Cotton of Buckingham fell short of that mark with 19.

GIRLS' COACHES COMPILE ATHLETIC SCHEDULES

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Mar. 14—The girls' coaches of Lower Bucks County School League met here last week to discuss plans for the betterment of their association and to draw up their spring sport schedule.

Although there were only five coaches from the association represented, it was concluded as a successful one for beside adopting their 1939 baseball and hockey schedules, they considered the plan of following the hockey loop's idea of having three or four official basketball referees to handle all their league games for next year. This list of officials would have to be approved by the circuit, however, and so nothing was done about it yet. But they expect to adopt this resolution at their Fall meeting.

They also laid foundation to holding their meetings in the form of a dinner following after the plan of the boys' coaches. These will also start in the Fall and will be used as a means of inducing member coaches of the various schools to be present for their meetings. There will probably be another meeting held sometime in May to clear up all Spring business and to make plans for their Fall sport program and their October meeting.

Neither the baseball nor hockey schedules have been released as yet, but the following seven schools will compose the baseball league: Bensalem, Buckingham, Langhorne, New Hope, Newtown, Richboro and Southampton.

Those present at the meeting included: Bensalem, Miss Helen Smith; Buckingham, Miss Matrona Walck; Newtown, Miss Matrona Walck; Morrisville, Miss Dorothy Gish; Southampton, Miss Florence Schlotman.

HIGH SCHOOL "GYM" TEAM WINS THIRD STRAIGHT CONTEST

Cardinal and Gray Team
Moves Step Nearer The Championship

DEFEAT CHELTENHAM

Local Boys Take the Contest
Here by Score of 50 to 13

The Cardinal and Gray gymnasts of Bristol High moved a step nearer the championship of the Philadelphia Suburban Gymnastic School League when they easily defeated Cheltenham High's team here yesterday afternoon, 50-13, for their third consecutive triumph of the league season.

As a result of their triumph, the Cards can now lose their last meet with West Chester this afternoon and even if Jenkintown wins over Upper Darby, they would still be in a tie for the loop title.

Prague itself, resigned to virtual extinction under the irresistible pressure of Hitler's "drang nach Osten" (drive to the East), took its defeat lying down.

With 300,000 German troops at its gates and helpless against the Nazi juggernaut, the Czechs gave only the feeblest resistance.

By Pierre J. Huss
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Mar. 14—Under relentless Nazi hammer-blows, Czechoslovakia fell to pieces today. Slovakia itself, with a population of 2,500,000, seceded from the Slovakian federation and established itself as an independent republic under the sponsorship of Reichsfuehrer Adolph Hitler.

Ruthania, otherwise known as Carpatho-Ukraine, was expected to follow Slovakia at any moment.

Hungarian troops, apparently acting without knowledge of Berlin, crossed the border into Ruthania and occupied a number of towns after heavy fighting.

LONDON, Mar. 14—(INS)—An exchange telegraph dispatch from Bratislava today stated that Joseph Tiso has been proclaimed president of the "independent" state of Slovakia.

Exchange also reported that the Czech government at Prague headed by Premier Rudolf Benan has resigned.

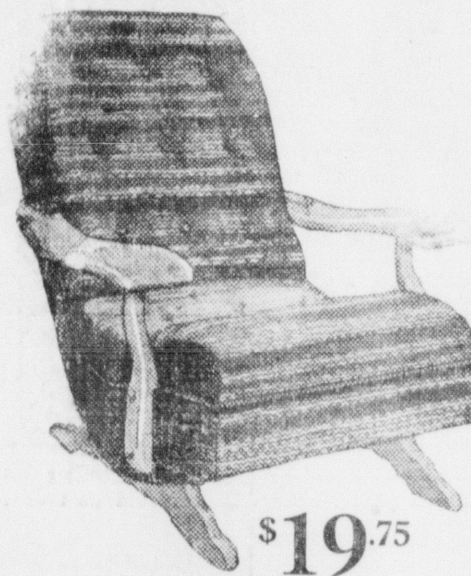

PRAGUE, Mar. 14—(INS)—Unconfirmed rumors that the Czechoslovakian cabinet headed by Premier Rudolf Benan has resigned electrified Prague today.

According to these rumors, it was expected the Prague government will be reorganized after dropping defense minister, General Jan Syrovky, General Alois Elias, minister of communications, and General Otakar Fischer, minister of interior.

Meanwhile, the cabinet members still holding the meeting begun last night.
